The Legenda

yearbook of Arthur Hill High School located at 3115 Mackinaw Street, Saginaw, Michigan

presents the year 1953-54

through its journalism department and
Editors: Eugene Budd and Dorothy Gray
Associates: Kay Archangeli and Dale Wieck

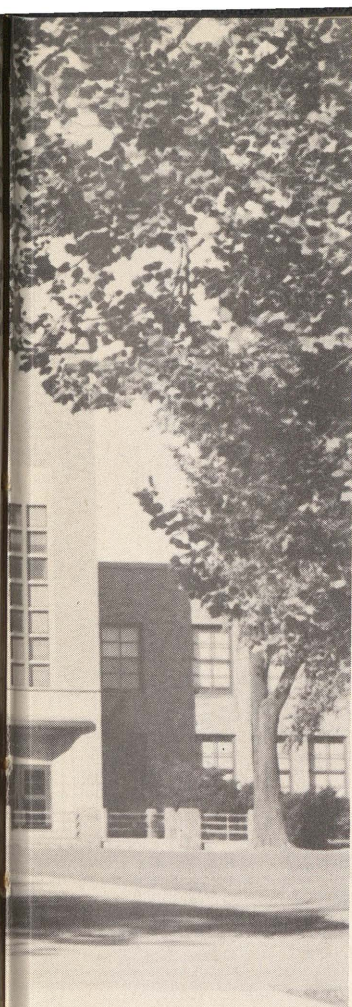

A favorite after lunch pastime is the familiar walk around the school with a stop at the plaza for a chat with fellow Hillites.

The finale, three years at Arthur Hill and graduation exercises in the Memorial Stadium, June, 1954 will present a similar scene with 562 seniors graduating.

Community House

With open doors to the citizens of Saginaw, our school presents a story of classes, business meetings, benefits, reunions, and friendly get-togethers. This is the panoramic view of the place where the students and faculty of Arthur Hill play a leading role, the activities that make Arthur Hill a COMMUNITY CENTER.

City Manager Charles A. Miller locates the center of Saginaw's government in the metropolitan area to Margaret Mitchell and Dale Hanson. Margaret and Dale were mayors for city government day representing Saginaw High and Arthur Hill, respectively. Throughout the year men and women come to Arthur Hill representing colleges and other centers of training. A representative from General Motors Institute of Technology talks to seniors interested in opportunities in industrial training.

Representative Alvin M. Bentley brings the student body news and views of life in the nation's capitol. Student chairman for the assembly was Arnold Ruskin with Mr. Edwin Schalk, social studies chairman.

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON

November
Thirteenth

Dear Mr. Brock

I have just returned after the wonderful party in Saginaw, and I want you to know how greatly we appreciated being the guests in your wonderful school. I think it is the finest of its kind that I have ever seen.

The girls of the Queens Guard were something to be greatly proud of, the service was excellent in every respect - in fact, nothing was left undone to add to our pleasure, and the good time that every one enjoyed.

Very kindest regards,

Sincerely

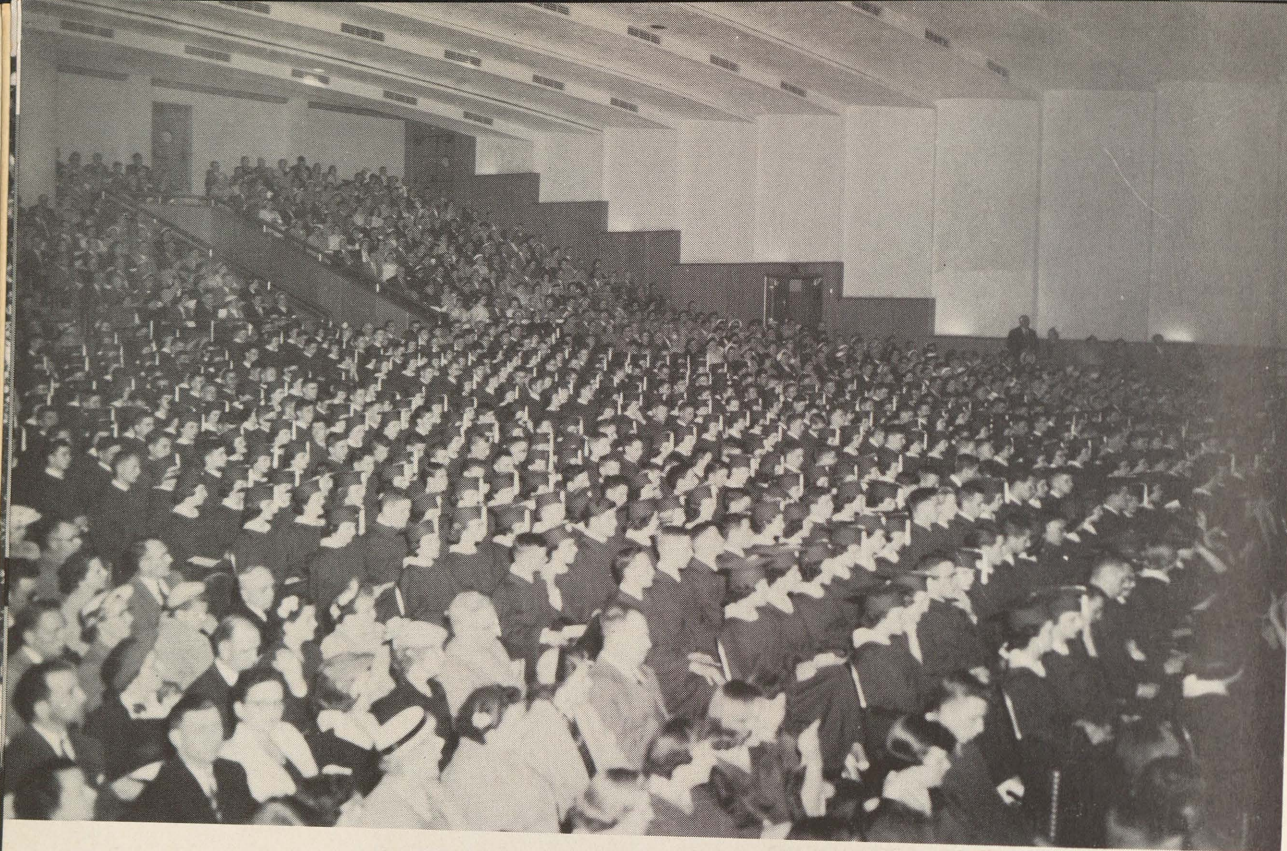

Mr. Brock
Principal
Arthur Hill High School
Saginaw, Michigan

Former Hillite Pamela Stark returned to her alma mater for a homecoming dinner in honor of her husband, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey. Honorable and Mrs. Humphrey enjoyed talking with old friends and many new acquaintances.

Graduating seniors, parents, relatives, and friends gather in the school auditorium to attend the annual Vesper Service.

Cheers fill the frosty air at Memorial Stadium urging Lumberjack teams on to victory.

University of Michigan Men's Glee Club members entertain Hon. and Mrs. George M. Humphrey and guests at a dinner in honor of the Humphreys in the Arthur Hill cafeteria.

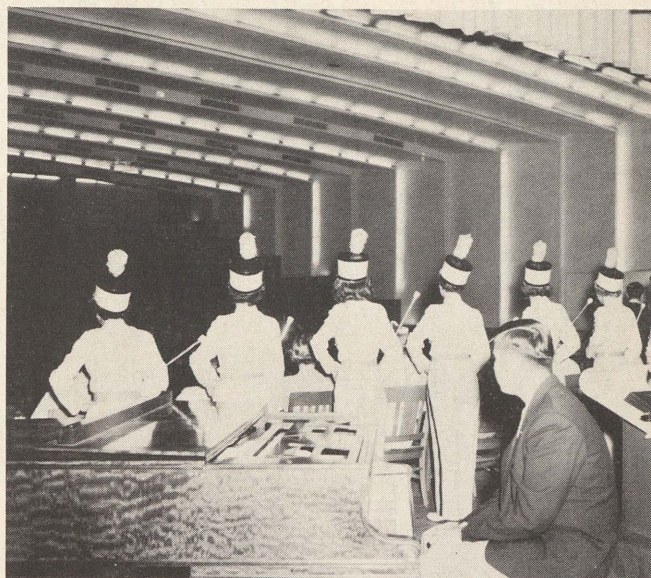

We salute and dedicate this book

To the Citizens of Saginaw and to the Leadership of the Board of Education

Arthur Hill has accommodated an unusual number of activities during the past ten months. We have listened to Secretary Humphrey, cheered at our games, talked to Representative Bentley, played cards with Parent Teachers Association members, eaten at dinners with students in business training and their bosses and athletic heroes, reaffirmed our belief in the Christmas spirit, and watched our seniors through graduation. Yes, we salute them, the citizens of Saginaw, who support and share the wholesome activities of our COMMUNITY CENTER.

Majorettes, student body, and faculty members salute the homecoming queen and court at the annual Homecoming Assembly.

Students and many citizens of Saginaw visited the Mobile Chest X-ray Unit at Arthur Hill last fall.

Voters from this district assemble at Arthur Hill to fulfill one of their privileges as a citizen of a free nation. Checking the voting machine is the clerk for this precinct.

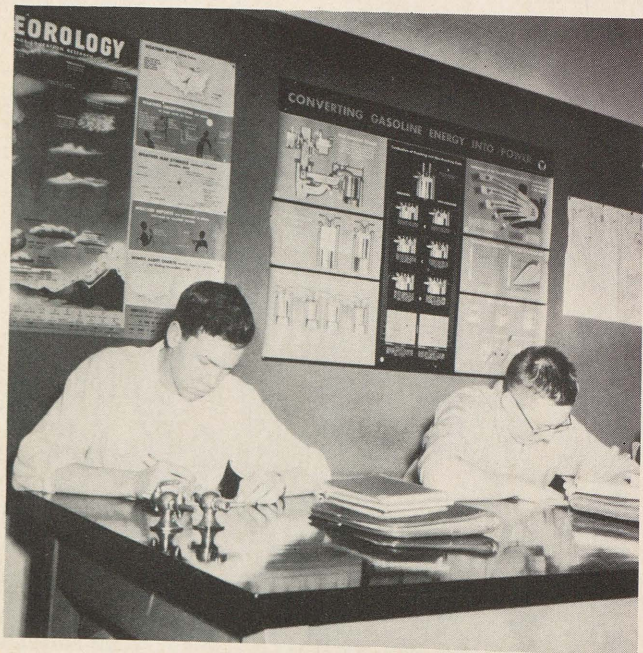

Boasting a high perch above the football field in Arthur Hill's Memorial Stadium are the backstage officials. The Saginaw News press box houses the radio sports casters, reporters, and the public address announcer.

Working after hours on a physics experiment are Tom Baird and Tom Byron. Charts on the bulletin board add hints of the many topics covered in physics.

Library 163 is open from 8:00 until 3:30 for library service. Mr. Charles Fowler stands watch as students do their homework.

Book Preview

Though seemly small and unimportant each glimpse brings back nostalgic memories. Here are pictured bits of life at Arthur Hill in which Hillites worked and played. Each so small yet each plays a part in the album of cherished recollections and memories of a year in high school.

Preparations for the reunion of the class of '18 held at the Bancroft Hotel were made by Mr. Alfred Richter, treasurer, Mrs. Earl T. Chisholm, arrangements committee, and Mr. Arthur Rice, class president and reunion chairman.

Enjoying a game of cards at the annual P-TA Card Party are Mr. Neil Bridge, Mr. Arthur Flucke, Mrs. Bridge, and Mrs. Flucke.

We are democratic . . . American

Arthur Hill's organization and government is truly American. The instigation of our proceedings are, of course, the administrative heads, the faculty, and student leaders. Hill-ites elect their student leaders, who conduct their council procedures, promote both class and social affairs, and are well represented in all community activities. Saginaw recognizes Arthur Hill as a well organized and democratic school.

Principals of Saginaw public schools gather in the community room at Arthur Hill to discuss current problems.

Congratulations are conferred on Dan Ederer, president of the Future Farmers of America Club, by Professor Thomas A. Cox of Michigan State College at the "Beautify Your Homesite" banquet. Mr. Howard Lytle, club adviser, smiles an approval.

Speed and accuracy are the main objectives of typing students, John Leaman and classmates.

Clearing House

Mr. I. M. Brock, principal, through the Faculty and Student Cabinets supervises life at Arthur Hill with a pleasantness that creates an atmosphere of co-operation and encouragement.

Mr. Raymond W. Morrow, assistant principal, in addition to his counseling, is in charge of the Service Club, eligibility lists, clocks, lockers, and keys.

Miss Ethel Peterson, dean of girls, coordinates the counseling, and as hostess schedules all building activities on the school calendar.

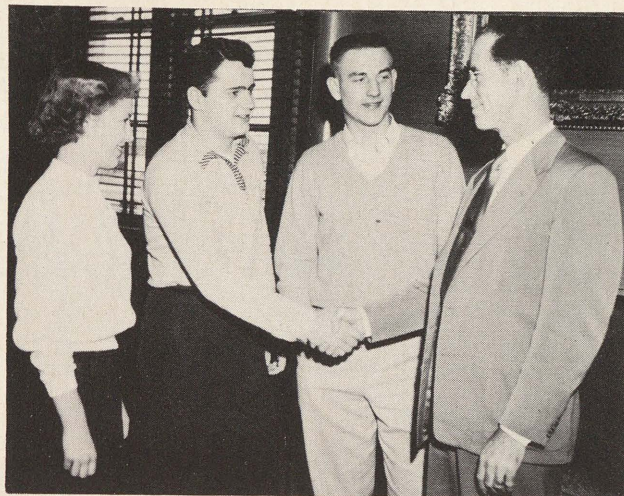

In the general school office, Miss Doris K. Frye heads the staff. Mrs. Marie Crittenden, student activity fund treasurer, spends advisory and first and second hours in the office to receive and record Student Organization finances.

Mrs. Lona Kraner, pictured at the left, takes care of those stacks of transcripts for students.

Miss Joan Bell, center office, helps the public with tickets and reservations among other duties.

Advisory each morning serves as a home for the student at Arthur Hill. During the fifteen minute period the daily bulletin is read and other all-school business is carried on. Each of the 65 advisory presidents is automatically a member of the student cabinet. Cabinet projects this year included supervision of the Noon Club, student organization membership, Homecoming, assemblies and parking lot.

Student Cabinet officers are elected from the 65 homeroom presidents in an all-school primary and then an all-school vote on the top ten. Confering on the school-year plans are Dale Hanson, first and second semester president; Jan Morford, first semester secretary and second semester treasurer, and Robert Wolfgram, first and second semester vice-president.

SEA Promotes a Professional Viewpoint

Board of Education members serve the citizens of Saginaw who elect them to manage the public schools. Their regular meetings are held at the Administration Building on Millard Street the second Tuesday of the month. Members — Standing: Mr. Charles C. Coulter, assistant superintendent; Mr. Walter A. Leesch, and Mr. J. Robert Grube, secretary. Sitting: Mr. Robert Grant, Jr., Mr. Edward C. MacRae, vice-president; Mr. Hiel M. Rockwell, treasurer; Miss Dorothy Senkpiel, Mr. Roswell Burrows, Dr. Raymond A. Hart, president; and Mr. Chester F. Miller, superintendent.

Sixth Annual Business-Education Day finds merchants host to 800 Saginaw city and county teachers for a day. The program opens with an assembly in the Arthur Hill auditorium. Then teachers reported to their assigned host. The tour through the places of business and the luncheon made up the day's procedure. The planning committee for the day — Mr. Albert C. Boyd, Chamber of Commerce executive secretary; Mr. Burrows Morley, chairman, director of American Opportunity Program for Saginaw; and Mr. Charles C. Coulter, assistant superintendent of schools. The speaker for the program was Mr. Geoffrey S. Childs, president of Saginaw Chamber of Commerce. His topic was "The Community and Business."

Saginaw County Institute meeting opened at Arthur Hill High School August 31 and continued through September 4. "The Three R's of School Community Relations" was the theme of the week. Specialists brought in for the program were Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, professor-at-large, Bradley University; Miss Lourentine B. Collins, director department of school-community relations, Detroit public schools.

Saginaw Education Association members are concerned with the professional, social, and general welfare of Saginaw teachers. Association officers — Miss Lorraine Gay, president; Mrs. Lelia Jakes, secretary; Miss Mary J. Ewing, executive secretary; Mr. Harold Giesecke, treasurer; and Mr. Paul Rhodes, vice-president

Faculty Cabinet Members Review Policy

Assisting teachers and guests during institute week were six senior girls. Guides — Janet O'Brien, chairman; Jan Morford, Carol Rice, Nancy Rupp, Sue Howe, and Sue Stamm.

Six teachers are among the new faces at Arthur Hill this year. Mr. Brock discusses plans for the coming year with Mr. Edwin Schalk, social studies; Miss Beverly Yates, English; Miss Joan Rosso, English; Mr. Russell Canute, social studies; Mr. Joseph Sloboda, mathematics; and Mr. Arthur L. Mills, mathematics and science. Missing from the picture is Mr. Fred Case, science.

Faculty cabinet members are a representative group elected by Arthur Hill teachers who consult with Mr. I. M. Brock, chairman, on all school plans. Members at a regular meeting — Mr. Joseph Sloboda, Mr. Prentice Ryan, Miss Eloise Bacon, Mr. Raymond Morrow, Mr. Brock, Mrs. Helen Beyer, Miss Rachel McMillan, Miss Ethel Peterson, Mr. C. D. Stewart, Mrs. Lorna Ziegler, and Miss Christine Webb. Miss Helen Beeson and Mr. Raymond Hartman are missing from the picture.

Happy to be together for the 1918 Reunion, held on December 28, 1953 at the Bancroft Hotel, to reminisce over by-gone days — Mrs. Helen Schumaker Rochla, Mrs. Josephine Franc Halm, Mr. Wendall Halm, Mrs. Sarah Garner Ulrey, Mr. Glenn Ulrey, Mrs. Esther Gelor Chaplin, and Mrs. Hazel Carmichael Houck.

For the first time in 36 years members of the class of 1918 gathered for a reunion dinner. Twenty-eight of the 53 graduates were present. Mr. Arthur Rice, class president, called the class roll. Each member responded with an introduction of his husband or wife and brought the group up to date on his doings and whereabouts. Renewing memories — Mrs. Earl T. Chisholm, arrangements committee; Mr. Lisle McKay, Mr. Alfred Richter, treasurer; Mrs. Ella Edwards Strable, Mr. Rice, reunion head; Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Brock, Mrs. Arthur Rice, and Miss Florence Wells '01, former head of the home economics department at Arthur Hill.

Students at Arthur Hill whose parents were graduated in 1918 — Standing: Gerald Goodman and John Hilbrant. Sitting: Sally Martzowka, Dick Goodman, Ann Wallace, David Morford, and Mary Ann Olson.

Members of the class of 1924 enjoyed a reunion June 4 at Zehnder's Hotel in Frankenmuth to celebrate their thirtieth anniversary. Mr. T. Hewitt McDonagh was the general chairman. Arthur Hill students whose parents were graduated in 1924 — Ruth Brownrigg, Sandra Gainey, Sharon Bell, Ruth Mannion, Suzanne Zitter Sandra Trinklein, Leonard Zorn, and Richard Marr.

Students whose parents were graduated in 1929 compare present day life at Arthur Hill with that of 25 years ago. Twenty-niners plan a fall reunion according to presidents Robert Grube and William Morgan. Present Hillites who have 1929 graduates in the family — David Morford, Frances Miller, Kay Laing, Mary Jo Campbell, Judy Hart, Gerald Goodman, and Dick Goodman.

Combine Interests

Cabinet members of the Parent-Teacher Association plan the year's activities. At a regular meeting — Mr. I. M. Brock, principal; Mrs. Mary Stewart, teacher vice-president; Dr. G. E. Tiedke, father vice-president; Dr. Norman Westlund, president; Mrs. W. K. Anderson, mother vice-president; Mrs. William B. Keyser, corresponding secretary and historian; Miss Ethel A. Peterson, adviser; and Mrs. F. M. Aunger, membership chairman. Mr. C. M. Fischer, treasurer, and Miss Mattie Crump, publicity, were absent.

To finance its student welfare projects members and friends gather at the annual card party. A group enjoying the evening are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Boehm and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Behling.

Open house provides parents an opportunity to visit teachers and discuss student progress. Open house is held twice each year. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sarkozy confer with Don's English teacher, Mrs. Joy Mann.

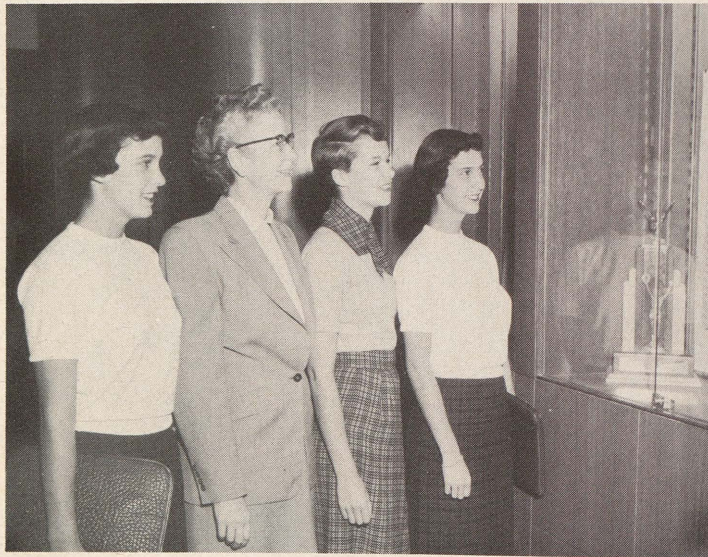

Winter picnics each spring bring the entire family to school. The north half of the school meets one week and the south half the next. Each advisory plans a potluck menu, and decorates its own table. A student program and election of association officers for the next year completes the informal evening.

Hillite girls again proved supremacy over the boys when they were victorious in the annual Student Organization campaign by the percentage of two points. Girls campaigned under the leadership of Mrs. Frances Hamlin, girls' faculty adviser, Marcia Flucke, Phyllis Schaberg, and Paula Stormont.

Parent-Teacher Association membership drive reached an all time high with 1,948 members. Mrs. Mary Stewart, faculty chairman; Linda Coulter, student chairman; Sally Ward, and Cinda Coulter worked together in the annual drive.

In the annual Red Cross Drive students collected $204.40. Forty-eight advisories reported 100% membership. Drive officers — Myra Zeilinger, president; Janet Kwaiser, treasurer; Barbara Bullock, secretary; and Nancy Ure, vice-president.

Provide Students with

The boys again came out on the short end of the S. O. campaign. The boys chose as their leaders Mr. David Gainey, faculty adviser for the boys, Robert Wolfgram, James Hempstead, and Jack Stroebe. The 1953 S. O. campaign netted $9,166.45 with all-school average of 87%, a five percent drop from last year. The girls sold 88% and the boys, 86%.

Experience in Public Service

Senior Hostesses serve as school guides and office helpers. At the end of their junior year girls submit applications to the office for this position. Out of the applications seven are chosen. This year's Senior Hostesses — Adele Busaid, Norma Powers, Myra Zeilinger, Sue Howe, Ruth Allen, Polly Stormont, and Nancy Ure. Miss Ethel A. Peterson, dean, is their sponsor.

Students qualifying as Service Club members, arrive at school in the morning between 7:30 and 8:00. These students are under the direction of Mr. Raymond Morrow and are stationed in the halls as hostesses before the entry bell. Helen Davis and Ellen Leuenberger are among the members.

Pep Club members sit in a reserved section to lead the Hillites cheering section. Club officers elected by the student body are Bob McDonald, president; Rachel Tiedke, secretary; and Dick Wenzel, vice-president. Miss Mary Margaret Doidge is the club sponsor.

Service Clubs Operate

Clinic attendants take charge of the health room to assist students temporarily ill during school hours. Home Nursing students, taught by Mrs. Helen Beyer, register patients, help make them comfortable, and report to the office those who don't improve. Mary Powlus surrenders her library period to assist in the clinic.

Cafeteria student assistants help clean tables, trays, and wash dishes during fourth and fifth hour lunches. Helpers—Ronald Leitz, Don Turner, Bill Colpean, Phillip Fultz, Geraldine Stark, and Lydia Tolfree.

Student librarians under the direction of Miss Ruth Long report to library 163 during their library hour to give assistance in checking books and keeping the shelves in proper order. Librarians—Edward Curtindale, Thelma Yarger, Mary Reinke, Barbara Barchak, Donna Kelly, Mary Jane Heitkamp, Pat Leyer, Mary Foulds, Betsy

for our Convenience

Student and teacher members of the assembly committee select and supervise assembly programs for the entire school year. Members—Standing: Arlee Ann Rosenberg, Paul Chamberlin, Susan Haft, Larry Wills, Beverly Stearns, James Boyse, and Mrs. Nancy Baxter, chairman.

Sitting: Miss Burnice Gibbs, Mr. Russell Canute, Mr. Earl Burnett, and Miss Constance McWethy.

Ushers Club members under the leadership of Miss Helen Beeson take tickets, give out programs, and show guests to their seats at plays, concerts, and assemblies.

Members — Top Row: Jo Anne Fink, Joy Smith, Ruth Mannion, Jane Collier, ZoAnne Wenzel, Deanne Boltz, Eileen Stokus, Mary Mannion, Sharon Tuper, Darlene Crampton, Janet Eurich, and Jeanette Sting.

Stage crew members assist with whatever goes on stage. They set lights, props, sound effects, and pull curtains for each performance. Getting ready for their next cue are Carl Bickel, Dave Adler, Tom McClellan, William Huebler, Tim Krueger, and Richard Elvin under the instruction of Mr. Stanley D. Schubert, dramatic coach. Missing from the picture is Lloyd Cartwright.

Projection Club members are trained to operate film projectors and assist with audio-visual programs. They have headquarters in the projection booth at the back of the auditorium. Mr. Seymour Murphy, director, demonstrates a few pointers on how to operate the tape recorder to president Gene Budd, James McCormick, and Lloyd Cartwright.

The banner in the cafeteria announcing "Club Hillite This Friday Night" beckons all students to an all-school dance in the combined gyms. Everyone is welcome to enjoy dancing, games, refreshments, and fellowship with other Hillites.

Club Hillite Offers

"Big 14" discusses and plans Club Hillite evenings, under the direction of Mr. Harve C. Light and Miss Ethel Peterson. Club leaders are chosen from the girl and boy representatives named by each advisory. Members — Standing: Shirley Jones, Dick Morford, Janet Kwaiser, Jerry Young. Sitting: Bill Turner, Joe Bommarito, Joan Mark, Sue Howe, Judy Constantine, Ronald Zeilinger, Cinda Coulter, Tom Jones, and Ronald Goold.

Recreation and Fun

Enjoying an interesting game of cards at Club Hillite are Miss Helen Olmsted, Mr. Kenneth Poulson, and Miss Cora Morgan, faculty sponsors for the evening. Students looking on are Robert Otto, Yvonne Purigroski, Joan Mark, and David Proux.

Taking part in an exciting game of table tennis at Club Hillite are Don Donahue and Sue Howe. Refreshments, dancing, and other games entertain Hillites and their guests from 8:30 to 11:30 P.M. Seven advisories supply committeemen and sponsor the dance each time, rotating alphabetically.

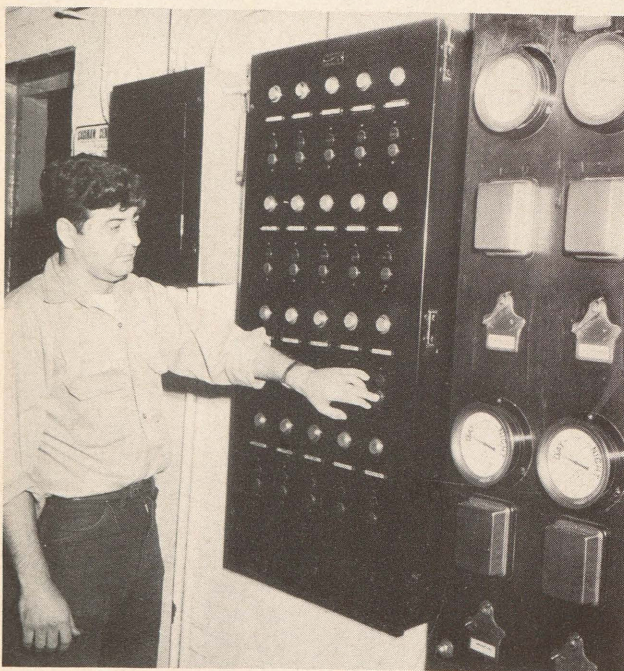

College-minded junior, Kay Fischer, looks over registrations from various schools to determine her choice.

Operating one of the many controls under his direction is Mr. William D. Wescoat, engineer.

Interviewing the school nurse, Miss Ethel C. Ryckmann, is Barbara Bullock of the Arthur Hill News Staff.

The Family

All of us are needed to keep our school running and jumping. The seniors complete three years of study, recitation, and fun, and look forward with determined minds to the future. Underclassmen seek approval and a place in the running while teachers and other adults hope they have done their best.

Talking with Bob Krogman, new swimming captain, and his predecessor Nelson Thomas, is Coach Edward T. Kennedy of Columbia University, guest speaker at the Swimming Banquet.

Class dismissal bell gives a five minute period to exchange news and to hurry to their next class.

Making plans for the coming election of homecoming queen, Norma Powers admires the pictures of candidates.

Cutting the cake at the tea in honor of her engagement to Mr. Robin Williams is Miss Mildred Anderson. Mrs. Marie Crittenden, waiting to be of service, and guests Mr. and Mrs. Lew McLean look on. The Anderson-Williams vows were spoken on December 19, 1953.

A spring dinner is served for faculty members in the music room. Head waiters Mr. Raymond Hartman and Mr. Eric Senn, wearing tuxedos, aided guests in finding tables. Entertainment followed at "Club 54 on the Hillite roof" where the group were guests of "Two for the Money". Contestants won prizes. Games and dancing followed the program.

Planning faculty social activities is a rotating committee. Committee members served coffee and doughnuts at faculty meetings, planned for a Christmas party for children of faculty members, the spring dinner, and the 25-year Club luncheon. Taking care of last minute arrangements this year — Mr. Robert Barringer, chairman; Mr. Eric Senn, Mr. Harold Giesecke, Mrs. Hazel Gunther, Miss Helen Olmsted, Miss Patricia Steigely, and Mrs. Joy Mann.

Cafeteria staff members arranged a Christmas Party of their own. The honored guests were Mr. I. M. Brock and Santa Claus.

Taking time out between dances at the Prom, seniors Patricia Rennert, Lou Ann Schallhorn, and their escorts chose to visit "Antoine's" for refreshments.

Seniors smile proudly as they await the senior dinner to be served in the school cafeteria. This is the last time as students they will meet here to eat. Tables are decorated with creations of modern art done by the students of the art department.

Senior Week

Pretty spring dresses make their first appearance at the senior dinner. Nancy Yarmuth, Sylvia Lodes, and Andria Hartner meet other seniors in the cafeteria.

Entertainment at the senior dinner was emceed by Charles Schultz. Class talent turned its mind to verse and music. The Hollywood premier featured oscar's galore.

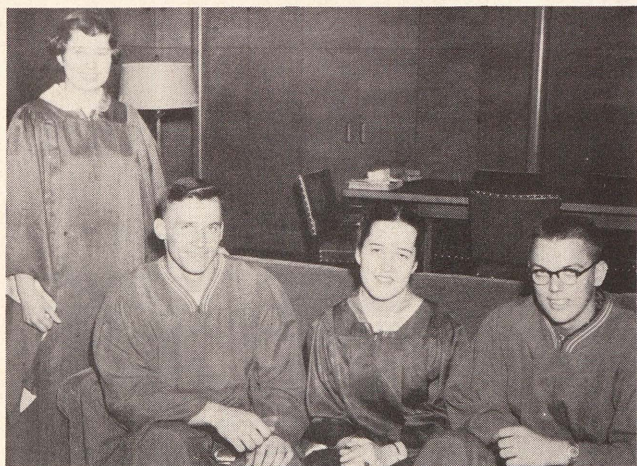

"And a good time was had by all" is the feeling of everyone who attends the senior prom, the last formal social event of senior week. Decorations created a Mardi Gras setting.

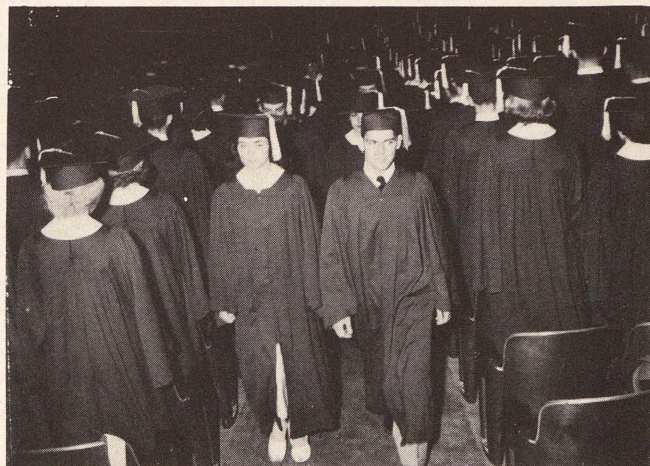

Seniors and their families gather in the auditorium for the Vesper Service on the Sunday preceding graduation. Dr. Henry W. Fischer for over a quarter of a century has been elected by the class as the speaker.

Tops High School Days

Speakers for the commencement exercises were Marilyn Little, Vic Landeryou, Jean Boch, and Bill Booth. They were chosen by the senior committee from nominees made by each advisory.

"Pomp and Circumstance" is the selection played while seniors Gene Archangeli and Jacqueline Emmitt march down the aisle after the vesper service.

Highlighting the week of senior activities are the graduation exercises which bring all of the seniors together for the last time. This final event is held early in the evening at the Arthur Hill Memorial Stadium and is open to the community.

Preparation Sets the Stage

Measuring for caps and gowns is the first step toward preparation for commencement. Charles Murdoch takes Sue Howe's height measurement for her graduation gown.

Receiving name cards and invitations is another step toward commencement. Miss Amy Gatz shows Pat Humpal and Jerry Seaver the '53 invitation sample. Next in line are Bernard Kapuscinski and David Kruske.

In senior assembly, seniors connive to top all other classes in their class Will and Prophecy stunts. This results in hilarious comparisons and incidents.

Selecting and planting the senior tree is an annual event conducted by a class committee. Committee members — Don Wade, Dick Kruse, Sandra Vanderstein, Jim Woodrow, Mike Sverid, and Allen White.

One, two, three over! Rehearsing for a senior assembly stunt are Marilyn LeGear, Dee Galonska, and Judy Richards.

English Class Work Improves Communication Skills

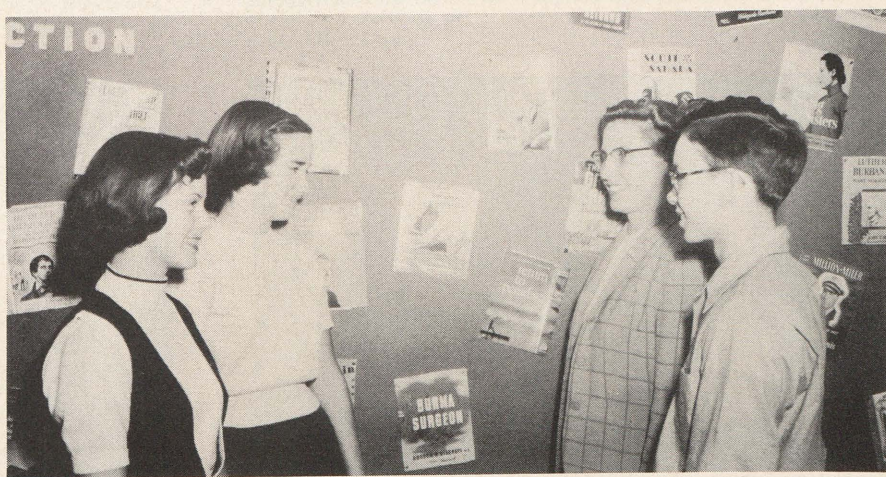

Minute reporter for Saginaw public schools over station WSAM is Larry Wills. Teamed up with Larry in debate is Mary Flora. Mary is the top debater for the season. Her record includes six wins and two losses while Larry's record is five wins and three losses.

Senior Mary Ann Muehlenbeck received second place for her essay entitled "Build Through Citizenship" in the annual Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary contest. A cash award of $15 accompanied the second place certificate.

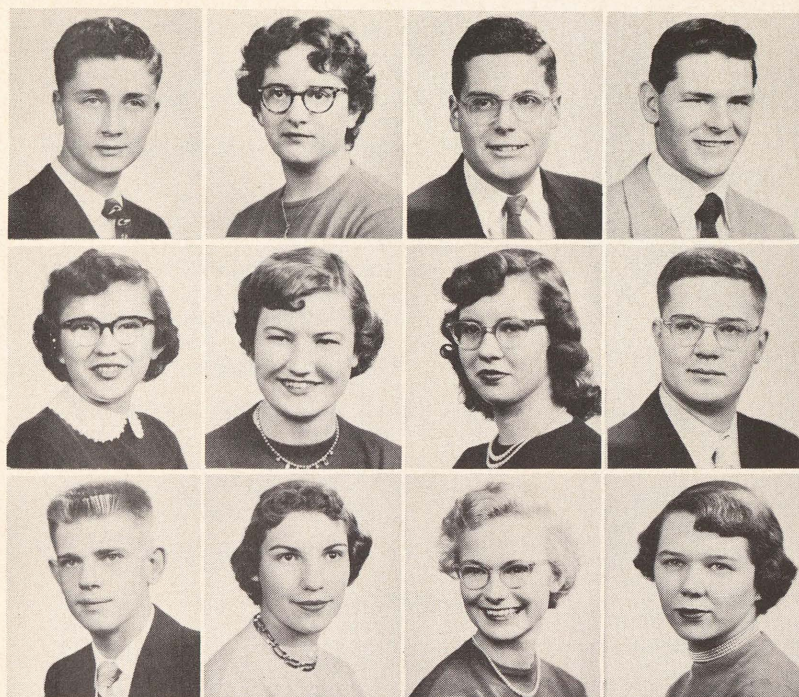

National Book Week, November 12-18, brought a display tempting high school students to read. Book reports are required each marking period for both college and non-college students. Fiction, non-fiction, biography, and adventure books encourage students to broaden their field of reading. The library staff arranged the book week display under direction of Miss Ruth Long, librarian.

"Book reports due Friday," is a familiar assignment from English teachers. Miss Ruth Patow decorated her back bulletin board with recommended book covers suggesting material for pleasure and background reading. Looking over the titles with Miss Patow — Sharon Anderson, Karen Lytle, and Howard Machette.

Seniors of today find the cornerstone of the old Arthur Hill, a suitable setting for senior day snapshots.

Underclassmen are Sophomores and Juniors

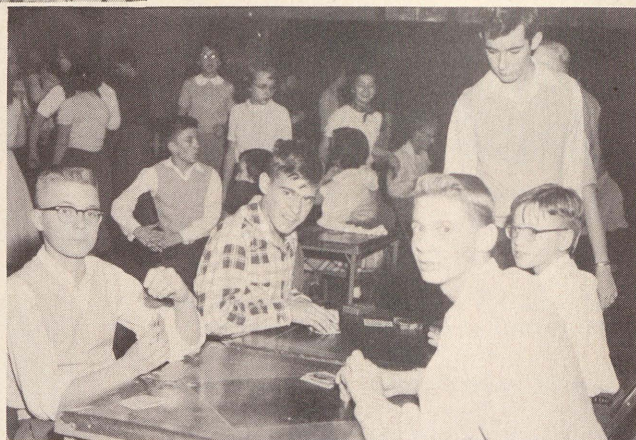

Sophomores came together as a class for the traditional Halloween party in October. Under the leadership of committee chairmen Hannah Larke, Judy Jones, Ann Wallace, Jim Boyse, Sue Strecker, and Anne Westlund, the class presented a tea dance with floor show, games, and refreshments. Jim was master of ceremonies.

Sharon Jersevic and Bill Leser dance to the records at Noon Club during lunch hour.

New students were welcomed to Arthur Hill at the sophomore assembly where representatives from the Junior High schools and Arthur Hill greeted them. After acquainting themselves with their new advisories and a tour of the school, sophomores danced to the music of the Arthur Hill Dance Band in the gymnasium.

Juniors prove their ability on stage as they star in the Junior play. Shown in a scene from their tournament play, "confessional," are Joan Mark, Hallie Watson, and Detmar Finke.

The Card brothers, Bill and Bob, realize the necessity of a well-rounded vocabulary. They use the unabridged dictionary in library 163.

Portraying a typical locker scene in Hillite halls are Matt Spence, Marilyn Vassold, Shirley Kelly, and Bob McDonald.

Harry Forbes, Leroy Martin, Tom Yearsley, Tom Baird, and Mike McFarland take advantage of their noon hour for that last minute check-up on today's lesson.

Learning about their community through the newspapers posted on one of the hall bulletins are Mary Card, Marilyn Vasold, Matt Spence, and Larry Campeau.

Stamping new classroom books just arrived at Arthur Hill are Bob Bauder and Bob McDowell.

For his idealism,
for his pleasant turn of phrase,
for his keen sense of organization,
for his ability to guide students, staff, and parents
through activities they may look back upon with pride, we salute Principal I. M. Brock who on June 10 became the newest member of the 25-Year Club of the Arthur Hill High School.

Effort Well Spent

Through diligent effort, good management of time, and a little determination students distinguish themselves from the 2,000 students at Arthur Hill. To them go the harvest of recognition in awards and scholarships.

Applause filled the auditorium as Mr. William Holmes Doerfner '17 came forward to accept recognition as the third Honor Alumnus of Arthur Hill High School. Mr. Doerfner was honored for his outstanding leadership and his forward look in industrial management. Marcia Flucke, junior representing Quill and Scroll Society, gave the tribute written by Sue Shorney. About 600 alumni, friends, family, parents of the honor group, and students filled the auditorium. Others on stage are students being recognized for their leadership, service, and scholastic achievement with membership in the National Honor Society.

A proud couple are Mr. and Mrs. Doerfner as they look over the honor assembly program. The honor alumnus committee interviewed Mr. Doerfner at his home.

Dr. John Orton Goodsell '15, second Honor Alumnus, (right) congratulates Mr. Doerfner '17, third Honor Alumnus. The faculty sponsored a reception in Mr. Doerfner's honor in the Community Room following the assembly.

Fourth Honor Alumnus

"For his profound learning; for his inspiration as master teacher; for his self-discipline, dignity, and wit in the social and intellectual leadership of America . . ." For these and other outstanding and commendable qualities Dr. Carl Frederick Schreiber '04 became Arthur Hill's fourth and 1954 Honor Alumnus May 20.

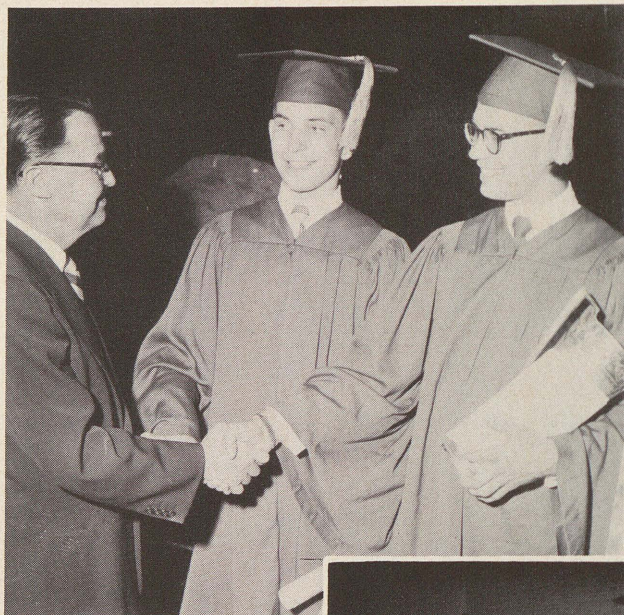

Invited guests, new National Honor Society members, and Hillite students and faculty members applauded as Dr. Schreiber came forward to accept the certificate awarded to him in memento of his noteworthy achievements. Speaking on behalf of the Arthur Hill High School, Sally Ward gave the tribute to Dr. Schreiber.

Since he graduated from Arthur Hill, Dr. Schreiber has become "one of the most outstanding professors and head of the German Department at Yale," prominent authority on Goethe, curator of one of the world's most complete collections of Goetheana, author, bibliographer, and a great American citizen. As a hobby he collects the books that Edgar Allen Poe reviewed.

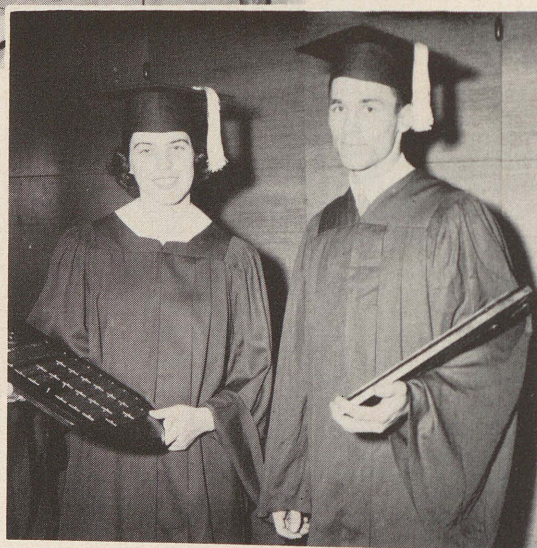

Because of his scholarly achievement and his use of his knowledge, Dr. Schreiber has received numerous awards and honors. Some of the most outstanding of these are the Ottendorfer Memorial Scholarship for study abroad, the Hindenberg Medal for art and knowledge. He is Leavenworth professor of German, a Fellow of Berkeley College, Yale, and an Associate Guest Fellow at King's College, Cambridge.

Dr. Schreiber and his wife Estelle Martin Schreiber live in Westville, a suburb of New Haven, Conn. They have two children, both married, and three grandchildren.

Richard Schluckbier, winner of the J. W. Ippel Cup, and Richard Hausler, winner of the Otto-Roeser Arthur Hill Scholarship, accept congratulations from Principal Brock on commencement night.

Paula Stormont, DAR delegate, received the award by the vote of the 1954 graduating class and the faculty. Paula was entertained by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and competed for the state top delegate through a competitive examination and attendance at the state meeting at Battle Creek.

Sue Shorney received the Civitan Plaque for best senior citizenship and Victor Landeryou the Michigan Alumni Plaque for leadership, sportsmanship, and scholarship at the senior assembly.

A Tribute to Those Who Excel

Sophomore awards for 1953 honored Constance Barry and Ronald Zeilinger. The plaque is given to the outstanding sophomore girl by the Y-Teens club, and the cup to the outstanding sophomore boy by the Hi-Y Club. Connie and Ronnie were chosen by students and the faculty on the basis of citizenship, leadership, scholarship, and participation in extra-curricular activities.

Representatives at Wolverine Girls and Boys State last summer were Bob Wolfgram, Dick Sommers, David McDermid, Craig Smith, Lloyd Cartwright, Willard Wallgren, Janet O'Brien, and Denny Prining. The service clubs of the city sponsor these students in training for their promise of scholarship, leadership, and dependability. The girls meet in Ann Arbor and the boys in Lansing.

Honorary members of the Future Farmers of America Club are congratulated by chapter president, Fred Meyer. Initial membership this year included Dr. Warren H. Sears, Superintendent Mr. Chester F. Miller, Mr. Robert Bowden, and Mr. E. F. Wieneke.

Three cheers for the winning team! Congratulations are in store for the boys in Miss McWethy's advisory as the south half is again victorious in the intramural basketball championship game.

Learning and Living

Classes and clubs take up the majority of a Hillite's time. Every small event is of concern to some student. Assignments, book-toting, homework, projects, the customary walk around the square, concerts, tests, plays, assemblies, sports, eighth hours, and dances fill the short hours of the school day.

Ruth the pirate maid, Adele Busaid, forces the indignant Chief of Police Edward, Ray Curran, into submission in the operetta "The Pirates of Penzance."

Practical experience in good homemaking is the intention of Hillite, Barbara Jakes, during sewing class.

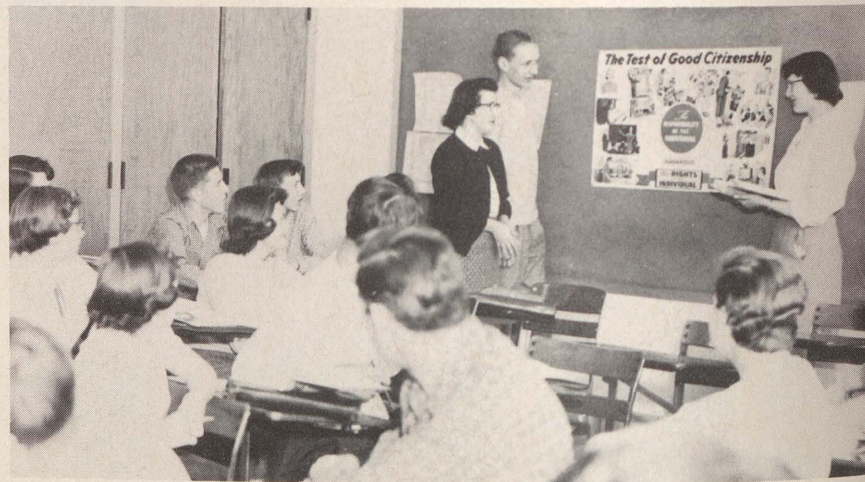

Time out for lunch means time for relaxation and favorite foods. Hillites John Van Blois, Grace Binasio, and Janice Rosein purchase ice cream desserts in the school cafeteria.

Mr. Frank Neiderstadt, city clerk, confers with City Government Day students, Don Donahue, Donna Hare, and Sharon Stavelly. Saginaw High and Arthur Hill students took over the positions of the city fathers for one day.

Good citizenship comes through constant practice. By recognizing and abiding by the rules of a community a student can help himself to become a better citizen. Shirley Smith, Clark Moreland and Lou Anne Heck discuss the requirements for good citizenship in economics class.

Social Studies

In social studies students are required to take art of living, American history, economics, and government. College course students may add a year of world history for a major in social studies. General law is also offered. Mr. Edwin Schalk is the new department head this year. Among activities were an all-school assembly to hear Representative Alvin M. Bentley, class visits by Professor Robert E. Ward of Ann Arbor, and county and city government days. Many times several classes combined for films in the auditorium.

American Government and Economics is one of the requirements for graduation. This gives seniors a background in the organization of American democracy and the financial status of the country. Mr. Schalk explains to his seventh hour class the principles of income tax returns.

Develop Understanding

In American history classes, students begin to understand trends and influences in the history of their own country. Personalities and their contributions take on new values as students try to understand current problems and seek their own place in the picture. Miss Burnice Gibbs, instructor, stands ready to help Beatrice Allington and Bill Feldt.

World history students gain a background of civilization from the beginning of time to the present, which aids their understanding of other countries. It also helps them in other studies such as language and literature. Mr. Prentice Ryan, instructor, shows Dave Morford and Roddy McIntosh a map of Europe and Asia before the Americas were known. World history plus the year of American history and government and economics gives the college course student a major in social studies.

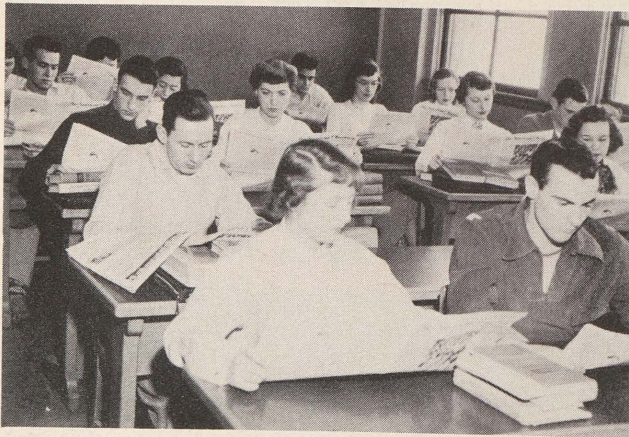

Participation in County Government Day takes students to the Court House. Department meetings were held in the neighborhood churches and the Moose auditorium. Attorney-General Frank Millard spoke to students from surrounding schools on the county's part of state government.

Future Teachers of America Club encourages student interest in the teaching profession. Club activities included reports on the lives and philosophies of great educators, teaching techniques, and problems of young people preparing for teaching. A joint meeting with Saginaw High at Arthur Hill was a new venture. Officers — Betty Diffel, historian; Joan Mark, refreshment chairman; Cyril Schultz, program chairman; Arlee Rosenberg, vice-president; Ann Robinson, secretary; and Susan Haft, president. Mrs. Frances Hamlin is the club sponsor.

The American Observer, a weekly newspaper, brings to students educational current events. Students read and give reports on the articles and lead class discussions for the students' point of view.

Miracle Book Club members participate in devotional meetings Tuesday and Thursday mornings before school. As their special project the club sent a Christmas box to a family in Florida who are now preparing for work in a foreign mission field. Officers choosing passages of scripture for the morning devotion — Jackie Brown, vice-president; Lorraine Kruscke, president; Ella Jo Robinson, secretary; and Iris Hagaman, treasurer.

In Art of Living Students

Art of living provides orientation to the school, a study of personality traits, social customs, health habits, and vocational investigation. Art of living instructors are Miss Constance McWethy and Miss Mary Lewis for the girls and Mr. David Gainey and Mr. Seymour Murphy for the boys. Karen Lytle, Judy Winters, and Joyce Towns compare lists of desirable traits with Miss McWethy.

Y-Teens is a girls service club supervised by the Young Women's Christian Association. Monthly meetings provide opportunities for activities. Among popular events are the all-school dances presented after games and the tea at the beginning of the year in honor of new members. The group also participates in many YWCA activities. Officers attend summer leadership camps. Strolling to their lockers after a meeting — Margaret Riethmier, music chairman; Joan Mark, secretary; Arlee Rosenberg, president; Kay Terrian, vice-president; and Jane Asmus, treasurer.

Seek Broader Social Outlook

Hi-Y Club is a boys club designed to help the school and community under the direction of the Young Men's Christian Association. The club sponsors speakers, recreation, and dances in cooperation with the Y-Teens. Officers train for leadership at summer camps and various area meetings. Looking over the program for the annual district meeting — Tom Lampel, president; Earl Gottschalk, treasurer; and Bill Grenny, vice-president.

In boys' art of living classes, which alternate with gym classes, social responsibilities and vocation investigation are course units. Girls and boys combine classes for dancing instructions. For this activity they meet in the cafeteria. Don Mertz with the assistance of his instructor, Mr. David Gainey, works on his vocational report, one of the required projects of all sophomore boys in their art of living class.

Hillites Learn to Appreciate Others Through

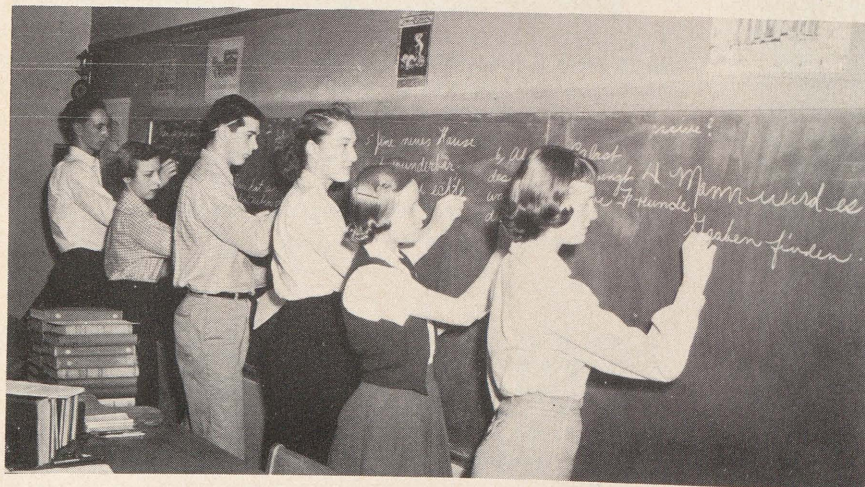

Language awards last year recognized outstanding students at the Awards Assembly in May. Dee Galonska received the France-Amerique medal which is based on club participation, class work, and a national examination in French. The Silver Key of the Junior Classical League honored Patsy Langdon for her outstanding service to the Latin Club. Medals by the Hispanic Society for excellence in second year Spanish encouraged Rachel Tiedke, Doreen Staley, and Nila Harmony, respectively.

French Club members prepare decorations of colorful balloons for the May banquet. The dinner featured a French skit and a sprinkle of light conversation. All French Club members and French students attended.

Language instructors discuss with Miss Gertrude Turner, chairman, next term's projects with other teachers in the department. Other instructors—Miss Patricia Steigely, German and Spanish; Miss Ruth Patow, Latin; Miss Gertrude Turner, Latin; Miss Cora Morgan, Spanish; and Mrs. Marjory Jacobson, French.

German students Dale Downey, Louise Vasold, Jerry Hammerschmidt, Rita Skabardis, Eileen Priebe, and Sigrid Eppele take dictation at the board.

Language Study

Among the novel ideas the Latin Club members tried this year were their unusual initiations and various extension of class projects. Club officers display outstanding class projects — Standing: Polly Stormont, secretary; Connie Barry, vice-president; and Joan Mark, point-chairman. Sitting: Myra Zeilinger, treasurer; Angela Suino, president; and Jeanne Sovey, point-chairman.

Enjoying their work at second year Spanish are Ed Person, Joyce Brieske and Tony Olvera, under the instructions of Miss Cora Morgan. Second year Spanish emphasizes synonyms and related words. The picture in the background showing a street scene adds atmosphere to the classroom.

Reading aloud from French books are first year French students, Carl Jacobson and Maureen McMahon. French is a three-year elective course.

Sending gifts to Guadalupe Center at Christmas and Easter time was one of the projects carried out by the Spanish Club this year. Club officers heading the committee — Doreen Staley, president; Marilyn Cherry, point-chairman; Rachel Tiedke, vice-president; Luanne Cooper, secretary; and Jacqueline Boutin, treasurer.

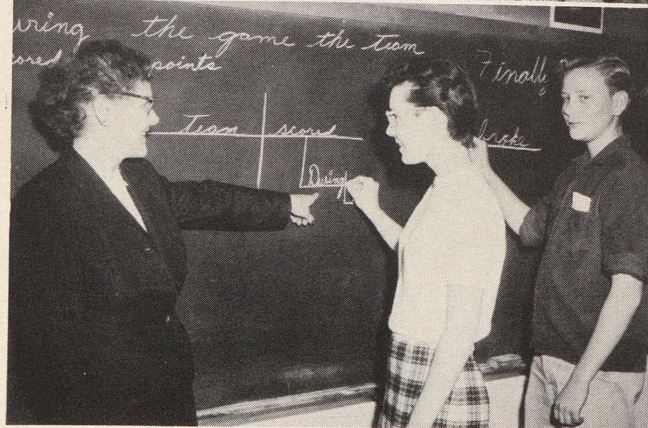

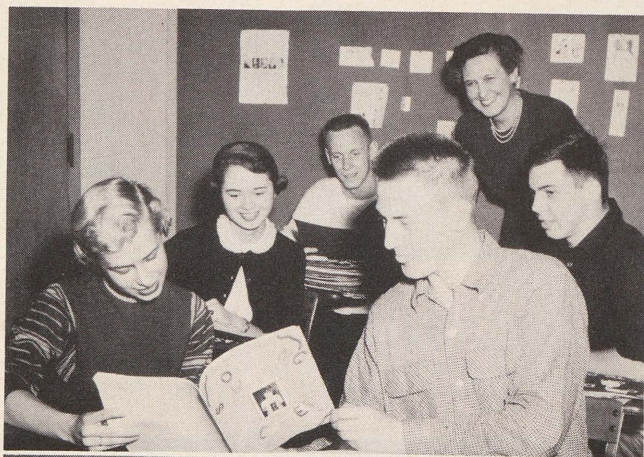

The "Holly Hop", sponsored by the French Club with the aid of Spanish Club, interested more than 300 Hillites. French Club officers — Pat Doss and Kaye Terrian, secretaries; Judy Dingman and Joan Campbell (missing from the picture), treasurers; Polly Stormont, president; Jim Hempstead and Dick Peterson, vice-presidents.

"To be or not to be, that is the question." Is that the question Barry MacRae is asking Miss Irma Stockdale, English department chairman, as his senior college English class reads Shakespeare's tragedy, "Hamlet"? The play "Macbeth" is also read by seniors.

"What price democracy?" recites Art Webster as he rehearses his sophomore declamation entry for the advisory elimination contest. Listening to Art's speech are five competitors. Representatives among the finalists of other advisories — Bill Vogt, Gary Cornack, Mary Lou Anderson, Sharon Bell, and Sandra Suino.

Seniors Betty Diffell and Ann Reavey showed good form in winning top honors in the district spring speech contest. Surviving the district eliminations Betty went on to take second in original oratory while Ann placed second in the humorous category in the regionals in Flint.

A thousand word research theme is required of each senior taking college English. Interest is high the day themes are returned. Sue Blohm, Barbara Bullock, Jim Hempsted, Mrs. Frances Hamlin, Tom Day, and Bob Wolfgram enjoy the art on covers and the comments received.

Grammar study in all English classes is done by the help of special workbooks with supplemented materials. The college course offers English literature and a review of mechanics. The non-college course includes the study of magazines and newspapers and mechanic review with emphasis on business and personal forms. Showing their knowledge of being able to identify the parts of speech Sally LaFleur and Jim Boquette analyze sentences on the blackboard. Miss Christine Webb, sophomore English teacher, explains the position the adverbial phrase takes in the diagram.

English Class Work Improves Communication Skills

Minute reporter for Saginaw public schools over station WSAM is Larry Wills. Teamed up with Larry in debate is Mary Flora. Mary is the top debater for the season. Her record includes six wins and two losses while Larry's record is five wins and three losses.

Senior Mary Ann Muehlenbeck received second place for her essay entitled "Build Through Citizenship" in the annual Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary contest. A cash award of $15 accompanied the second place certificate.

National Book Week, November 12-18, brought a display tempting high school students to read. Book reports are required each marking period for both college and non-college students. Fiction, non-fiction, biography, and adventure books encourage students to broaden their field of reading. The library staff arranged the book week display under direction of Miss Ruth Long, librarian.

"Book reports due Friday," is a familiar assignment from English teachers. Miss Ruth Patow decorated her back bulletin board with recommended book covers suggesting material for pleasure and background reading. Looking over the titles with Miss Patow — Sharon Anderson, Karen Lytle, and Howard Machette.

At the St. Patrick's Day assembly Jerry Hoffman, vice-president of the Band, Orchestra, and Choir Club and master of ceremonies, draws a number from a hat held by president Lois Tilley. Acts in the assembly were presented by club members. Act numbers drawn from a hat declared the order of presentation.

As the curtain rises on the Christmas Pageant, "Emmanuel", Mary portrayed by Ruth Allen, is telling her sister Elizabeth, Ruth Maynard, of her visit with the angel and of the promise that she would be the mother of the Messiah.

Composition, Stage Presence

Arthur Hill divers impressed the audience at the Boys S O Assembly with a trampoline act. Gene Sauer, Gale Fox, and Tony Kaufmann were coached by Mr. Richard Foerch of the YMCA.

Members of the Douglas Courtland championship exhibition table tennis team, Mr. Lee Webb and Mr. Harry Harry, presented fundamentals of table tennis and several trick shots. Joe Bommarito, a volunteer from the audience, lost to Mr. Harry by a small margin.

Deeply moved by the climax of the annual Christmas Pageant, tears come to many an eye as the curtains open, revealing the colorful nativity scene. The tension mounts as the worshippers enter and kneel before the Christ Child. All is still as the choir sings Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus". The curtains close but the scene remains in the hearts of Hillites as one of the most cherished memories of the school year.

Come Through Speech

Three wise men from distant lands followed the star and came to Bethlehem to worship the Christ Child, bringing rich gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. Melchior, Casper, and Balthazar were played by Bob Wolfram, Jim Vogt, and Larry Wills in the pageant, "Emmanuel".

Old-style barbershop melodies at the BOC assembly by the Sour Notes, was an attempt to "out-do" the popular boys quartet. Merle Holland, Pam Kline, Julie Hoffman, and Lois Tilley in official barbershop costumes brought many a laugh from the St. Patrick's Day audience.

Rev. Albert A. Windle, a blind Methodist minister from Piermont, New York, shows Eugene Budd and Betty Diffell how he reads Braille. He entertained Hillites in a talk called "Well, how can I see if I don't see?"

Interviewing is one of the most important duties of a new staff member. Using her experience and ability, Carol Rice, editor of the Arthur Hill News, is getting information from Dr. Nyaradi, guest speaker for Teacher Institute Week.

Presenting the final papers that legalize the new senior Treanor journalism award are Mr. Arthur Treanor and Supt. Chester F. Miller, Mr. I. M. Brock and Quill and Scroll officers — Rachel Tiedke, Marcia Flucke, Carol Rice, Gene Budd, and Mary Ann Muehlenbeck.

Senior staff members of the Arthur Hill News direct the compiling and editing of the news to give the school publicity and a newspaper under directions of publications adviser Miss Crump. Staff members: Mary Ann Muehlenbeck, managing editor; Carol Rice, editor; Marcia Flucke, Barbara Bullock, Janet Kwaiser, Dale Wieck, Joyce Minns, Jeanne Sovey, business manager; Richard Ault, Judy Holland, Dick Simpson, Luanne Cooper, and Rachel Tiedke.

The Arthur Hill News is given out bi-weekly Wednesday morning. Lined up to receive the News are the advisory treasurers. Staff members Dick Simpson and Mary Ann Muehlenbeck take charge of distribution.

Students Pool Abilities To Give

Receiving the 1953 Junior Journalism Award is Rachel Tiedke. This recognition is based on participation and accomplishments in the student's junior year on the staff.

Planning the theme, working on layouts, and checking copy are only a few of the many responsibilities shared by Gene Budd, editor, and Dorothy Gray, associate editor of the 1954 Legenda.

School a Record Through Publications

Officers of the Treanor Chapter of Quill and Scroll, international honor society for high school journalists, are Marcia Flucke, vice-president; Mary Ann Muehlenbeck, secretary; Dick Simpson, vice-president; Gene Budd, president; Carol Rice, secretary; Rachel Tiedke, pledgemaster; and Janet Kwaiser, treasurer. This group co-sponsors the Honor Alumnus recognition, plans the fall and spring trips to state press meetings, and enters individual and group writing in national competition. Miss Mattie Crump is faculty sponsor.

Thespians Score in Operetta,

"Enter the Hero" a one act comedy directed by Joyce Marti won first place in the Arts-Dramatics annual play tournament. Senior actors — Polly Stormont, Marcia Flucke, Ruth Allen, and Jerry Hoffman.

"Pirates of Penzance" was the comic operetta presented first semester this year. A cast of 98 students in police and pirate costumes and hoop skirts sang before backgrounds of an old family mausoleum and a peaceful lagoon where the pirate ship was anchored. The presentation, through the combined efforts of the music and dramatic groups, took the place of the usual first semester play. Frederic, Larry Cantu, an apprentice to a band of pirates is considered a "Poor Wandering One" by Mabel, portrayed by Donna Grashaw.

Choir and solo numbers featured daughters, pirates, and policemen. "To Gain a Brief Advantage" is the song expressed by this group with solo parts by Ernie Richman and Jerry Hoffman.

Pirates, Paul Gorten and Jerry Hoffman, listen as the older daughters of the major-general, Sally Dezelsky, Judy Hildinger, and Ellen Leuenberger declare, "Now Here's a First Rate Opportunity."

Arts-Dramatics is for all thespian enthusiasts. First hand experience in production technique prepares students for skillful dramatic presentations. Membership is gained by written application. Club officers — Gerry Herbert, vice-president; Barbara Wells, secretary; Jerry Hoffman, treasurer; Polly Stormont, president; and Sue Howe, secretary.

Pageant, Plays

"Nathan Hale" is a story of an American schoolmaster who is deeply moved by the peril of his country during the American Revolution. He wants to be a part of the fight for freedom and volunteers for the dangerous life of a spy on the redcoats. His brave story has served for years as an incentive for the following generations.

"I regret that I have but one life to give to my country," so spoke Nathan Hale, Detmar Finke, before the scaffold. British soldiers officiating at the hanging were Bruce Smith, Keith Wing, and Barry MacRae.

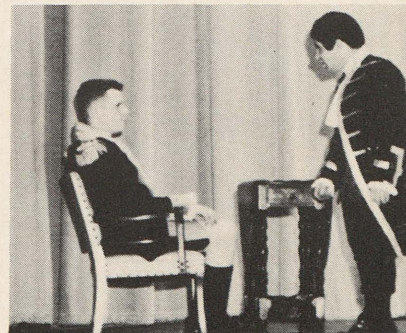

Surprised and shocked Mrs. Knowlton, Ruth Maynard, greets her daughter Angelica, Polly Stormont. She can't believe her daughter would think of eloping.

Blackboard drawings of teacher and others provide humorous schoolroom scenes to ease the tension in "Nathan Hale." Detmar Finke, teacher, reprimands his students Sandy Suino, Ruth Allen, Deanna Proux, and Kay Laing.

At a Redcoat party a toast is proposed to the king of England to test Nathan Hale's loyalty. With slyness Hale only pretends to drink.

Loyalty typical of the good servant was portrayed by Ernie Richman as the servant of Lieutenant Colonel Knowlton, Larry Wills.

Prancing ahead of the marching band at football games and parades are drum majors, Herb Neuwirth and Dennis Prining, skillfully directing the band formations.

Pep Band members do a first class job of raising the students' spirit and urging team support in the halls, pep assemblies, and on the field.

Majorettes add style and pageantry to band formations as they take the lead in games and parades. This year's majorettes — Penny LaFlair, Elaine Inman, Barbara VonSennet, Mary Ann Kingsbury, Carol Leseney, Barbara Bauer, and Mary Sager.

Instrumental music department students, under the direction of Mr. Earl D. Burnett, entertain Hillites and the community in concerts, Band Bounce, Commencement Exercises, and dances. They attend all home football and basketball games to help cheer the teams to victory and during football games, entertain spectators with half-time formations.

Includes Marching and Concert Band

Military tap chorus line was a popular attraction at the Band Bounce. Dancers are chosen for their size, rhythm, and personality. High-stepping lassies of the 1953 Band Bounce — Jo Ann Dieke, Janice Michalski, Carol Curtin, Onalee Klemach, Eunice Bowen, Joan Campbell, Pat Doss, Pat Durman, Norma Powers, Jerry Barrenscheer, Carmen Brown, Ann Wells, Mary Ann Muehlenbeck, Barbara Stone, Dee-Ette Galonska, and Yvonne Purigroski.

The Lost Chords, Arthur Hill's boys quartet, practice on their own time and perform for community and school affairs. Quartet members — Tom Lampel, Paul Gorten, Ernie Richman, and John Ahrens.

Vocal music department choral groups, under the direction of Miss Rachel McMillan, sing their way into the hearts of Saginawians in assemblies, concerts, performances at civic clubs, church services, commencement exercises, Parent-Teacher meetings, christmas pageant, and Band Bounce. Under the joint direction of Miss McMillan and Mr. Stanley D. Schubert, the combined choirs presented the operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance."

Vocal Music Students Excel in Entertainment

A cappella choir members in the traditional blue and gold robes entertain at many school and community affairs. The 75 choir members are chosen for voice quality and ability to read music. Top Row: Larry Cantu, Wallis Reid, Maurice Swarthout, Roger Clark, Nathan Fisher, Bill Anderson, Tom Macomber, Earl Somerville, Lawrence Passon, Ray Curran, Mervin Beyersdorf, Tom Landskroener, Willard Wallgren, Tom Lampel, Bob Bowden, Jim Geeting, Paul Smith, Harry Brooks, and Ron Downey.

man, Lois Tilley, Paul Gorten, Jim Grinnell, Dennis Waters, Tim Krueger, John Hilbrandt, and Garth Westendorf.

Third Row: Rosemary Veitengruber, Gretta Westin, Donna Parker, Merle Holland, Mary Stricker, Ellen Leuenberger, Kathleen Dungey, Sandra Smith, Karen Russell, Edna Buetow, Mary Mannion, Joanne Hibbard, Alice Bain, Kay Lemmer, Janice Kloha, Ruth Buckner, Ruth Weiss, and Joan Moreau.

Reserve a cappella choir members sing for the Christmas pageant, Spring Music Festival, Band Bounce, and commencement exercises. This choir is a mixed group in which members are trained for promotion into the a cappella choir.

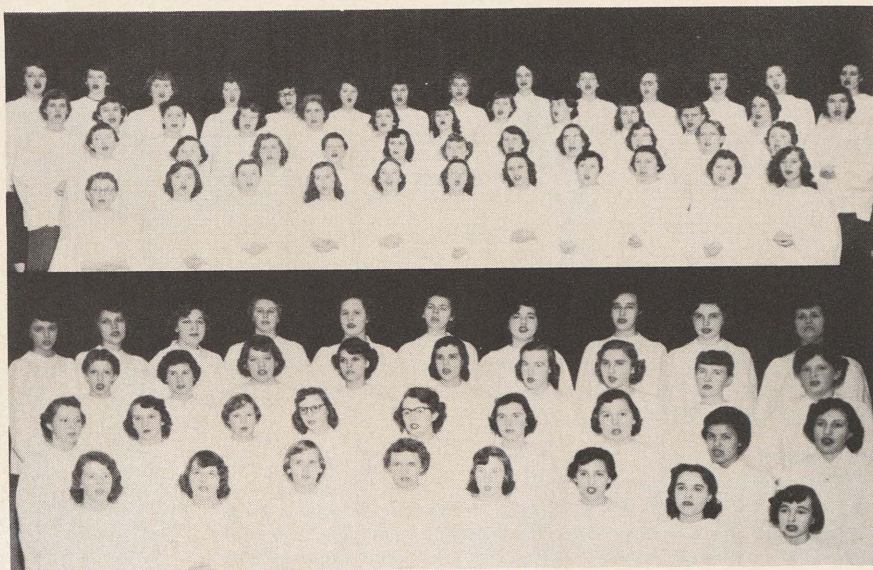

Miss Rachel McMillan is director of vocal music. Among her many duties are instructing over 200 voices daily, planning programs which will satisfy the musical tastes of the community, and coaching contestants for city and state competition.

Girls choir members sing for Christmas pageant, Spring Concert, Band Bounce, commencement exercises, and present a radio broadcast on Armistice Day. The choir is open to anyone who wants and likes to sing. In public appearances the choir wears white cottas and dark skirts.

Choraliers, a group of junior girls, entertain at civic clubs, banquets, assemblies, Christmas pageant, Spring Festival, and Band Bounce. The group has received superior ratings in state contests. Members — Barbara Russell, Karen Kerns, Nancy Stewart, Sally Ward, Mary Lou Kieft, Alice Abler, Jan Davis, Sharon Kincaid, Mary Louise Hinds, and Nancy Rathburn.

BOC Club gives its members an opportunity to gain experience in performing before an audience. Officers — Standing: Julie Hoffman, secretary; Ruth Mannion, publicity chairman; Paul Gorten, social secretary; Jerry Hoffman, vice-president. Sitting: Lois Tilley, president; and Donna Grashaw, treasurer.

Business World Calls

Co-ordination programs in high school connect the related subjects of office training and retailing to the training jobs open to students. Through the placement office come many outstanding employment opportunities for Hillites ready to make their debut into the business world. Business coordinators at Arthur Hill are Mrs. Mildred Williams and Mr. Raymond Hartman.

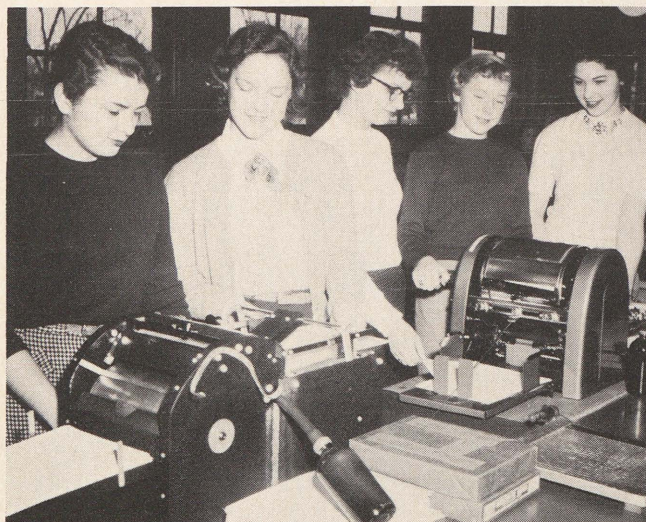

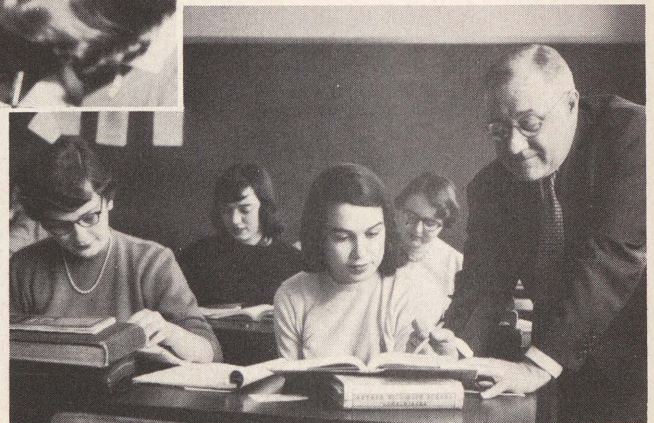

Commercial department head, Mrs. Hazel Gunther, dictates a speed test to her short-hand students. Mrs. Gunther, Mrs. M. Marie Crittenden, and Mr. Robert Shorney agree that competition encourages a student's effort to gain speed.

Students in Mr. Ben Well's bookkeeping classes learn to keep accurate files, neat books, financial statements and itemized budgets. Mr. Wells explains to Noreen Cottrell and Barbara Jakes how to check a financial statement from their practice sets.

Office trainees practice operating various office machines. Experience in the problem of filing, business math, telephone usage, business letters, and mimeographing afford the trainees practical knowledge for future careers. Running stencils for teachers — Mary Ann Schuknecht, Shirley Goslin, Sandra Wise, Marian Ulrich, and Marjorie Malzahn.

Typing with accuracy 60 or 70 words a minute is the aim of advanced typing students. These girls in Mr. Robert Shorney's class are charting the rates acquired for the day. In class — Standing: Jeanine Zittel and Joan Rice; Sitting: Luvella Nehmer and Marlene Basner.

to Commercial Students

Placement office opportunities are open to all students interested in a job while going to school. The office is entered through the student store. If a student wishes employment he sees either of the two business coordinators, Mrs. Williams or Mr. Hartman. Hugh List leaves after a conference.

At the student store are featured school supplies. Nancy Gilmore and Mary Ellen Graham purchase paper from Richard Wirtz and Carolyn Sackrider, clerks. Mr. Hartman is store faculty sponsor.

Co-op Club members decided to supervise refreshments at football games and sell popcorn at basketball games to finance club projects. Projects thus financed this year were a fashion show and the district convention. Officers — Standing: Don Zastrow, treasurer; Bonnie Wehner, reporter; Carol Webb, secretary; and Ronald Korbein, vice president. Sitting: Ronald Moldenhauer, president.

Co-op Banquet brings members together to recognize outstanding co-op workers and entertain their employers. Awards for their work on the job as well as participation in the Retail Co-ops and the Office Training Co-ops are presented at the banquet. Arthur Hill students attending were Ruth Chartrand and Barbara Mann.

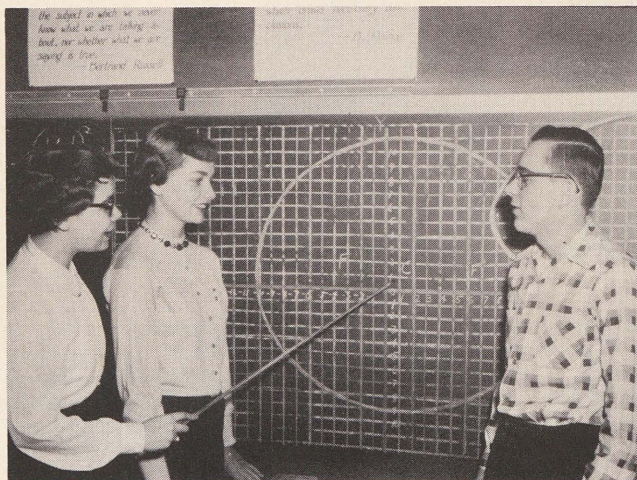

In the mathematics department 575 students are enrolled in algebra, plane and solid geometry, and trigonometry. One hundred sixty-seven seniors take the refresher arithmetic course. Mr. Harold W. Giesecke heads the department of six instructors.

Two clubs offer outside activity for mathematics enthusiasts. Engineering minded students take part in the JETS Club program. JETS, Junior Engineering Training for Schools, is affiliated with Michigan State College. This affiliation offers educational films, literature, speakers, and makes available scholarships for students desiring engineering for a career. Pythagoreans, math club, is primarily for those students who enjoy and wish to further their knowledge of mathematics. Student committees plan programs on various phases of advanced mathematics.

Mathematics Study Offers a Wide Range of Usefulness

Solving intricate equations by the use of graphs is one phase of second year algebra. Among other things they learn how to use logarithms and the extraction of cube root. Working a problem — Angela Suino, Nancy Rupp, and Dale Thiel.

Points, lines, circles, and polygons present many problems to plane geometry students. Hard work prepares students for advanced work in solid geometry, second year algebra, and trigonometry. Miss Una Robertson explains the difference between a right triangle and an isosceles triangle to Jim Keyser and Larry Campeau.

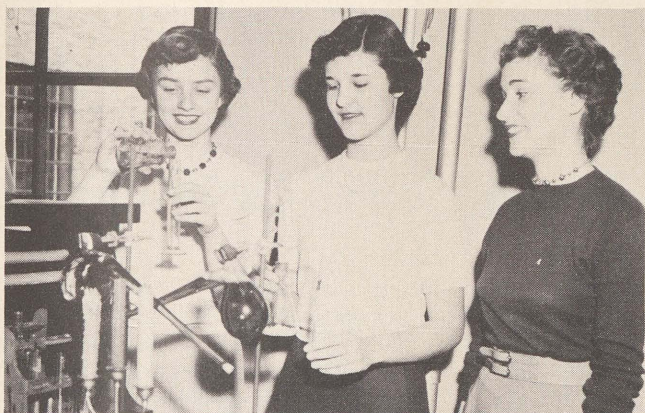

Planning the next meeting are Math Club officers for both semesters — Sallie Slocum, Craig Smith, secretaries; Arnold Ruskin, president; Charles Murdoch, treasurer; Bruce Davis, president; Stanley Anderson, Paul Schultz, vice-presidents; Don Trim, treasurer.

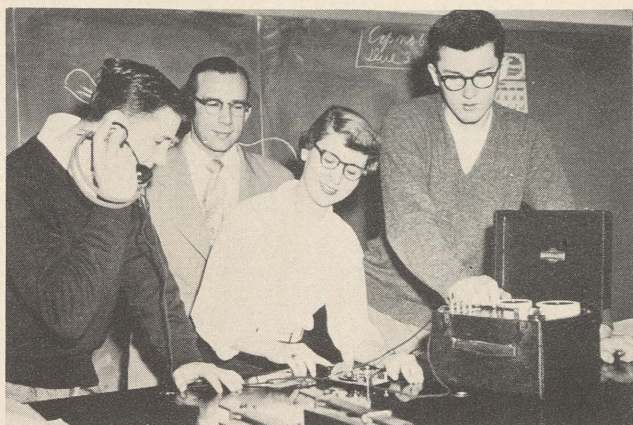

In biology class Janice Rednick and Floyd Wright dissected crayfish during an experiment. Kay Spousta and Dianne Wallace assist them as the students continue their study of nature, after which they will study the human body.

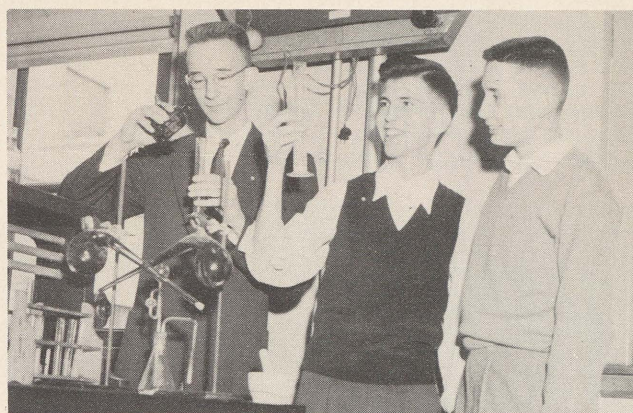

Senior girls who have maintained high scholastic averages in all classes are invited to become members of Alchemists, an honorary chemistry club. Presiding at the meetings — Nancy Rupp, vice-president; Myra Zeilinger, president; and Sallie Slocum, secretary-treasurer.

Who devised Archimedes principle? Bob Rupp and Bob Rosa appear in deep concentration on this question during one of Mr. Kenneth C. Poulson's well-known thumbnail tests in physics class.

In physical science Fred LaClair, Janice Michalski, and Denny Blanchet operate a telegraph key and code practice set in the study of sound. This new subject combines practical units of three years of science and is taught by Mr. R. George Purdy.

Preparing to perform a chemical experiment are officers of the Crucibles Club, honorary chemistry group for boys, under the sponsorship of Mr. A. G. Dersch. Officers Kim Gardy, vice-president; David McDermid, secretary-treasurer; and Stan Anderson, president, lead the group on projects pertaining to chemistry.

JETS Club leaders are elected each semester. Officers — Arnold Ruskin, vice-president; Janet O'Brien, treasurer; Bruce Davis, president; Sallie Slocum, secretary; Charles Murdoch, vice-president and treasurer; Dale Thiel, president; and Craig Smith, secretary.

In agriculture class in addition to their study of soil and animal husbandry the boys planned projects to earn money for their activities. Inspecting the dividends of last year's bumper crop raised on the school grounds are Frank Spindler, Vernon Summerfield, and Dan Ederer.

To raise funds the homemaking classes conducted a candy sale during the lunch hours in the school cafeteria. Rosemary Seibert and Dora Gonzales fill orders for Gail Densky and Beth Austin.

Future Homemakers of America in their home economics studies strive for a better standard of living by setting up ideal home situations both in attitude and physical equipment. The club is affiliated with the state and national organization and sends delegates to the district and state conventions. Officers — Rosemary Seibert, treasurer; Mary Lou Lutz, president; Pat MacAlary, secretary; and Dora Gonzales, vice-president. Absent from the picture is Sharon Rose, reporter.

Science Students Prepare

In the science department, 1,142 students enrolled under the instruction of ten teachers. Science courses range from chemistry to homemaking. The six science clubs offer programs including field trips, lectures, and social meetings for the students who find enjoyment in outside activities.

Leading the Biology Club in its programs of nature study and special reports were officers Myra Zeilinger, vice-president; Susan Haft, president; Janice Dezelsky, treasurer; and Arlee Ann Rosenberg, secretary.

Displaying a bearskin to his students as a phase of a class study in geography is Mr. R. George Purdy. Geography is a science that describes the surface of the earth, its climate, and the distribution of plant life and animal life. It is offered at Arthur Hill as a science credit in the non-college course.

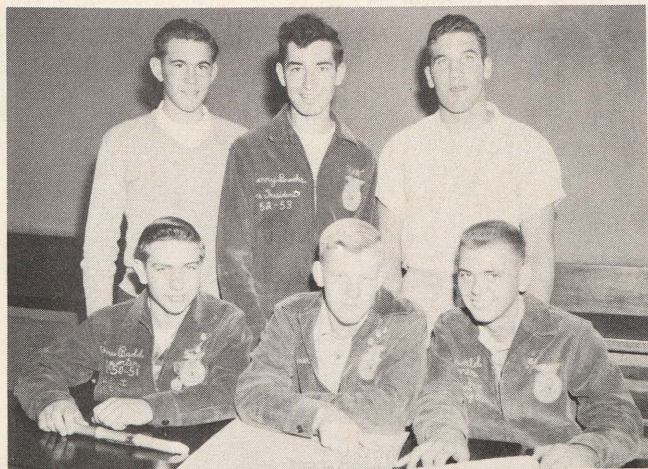

Home nursing students Shirley Dennis and Eva Meyer practice the fundamentals of nursing through class projects such as health room attendant. Attendants are required to pass a written examination sponsored by the Junior Red Cross.

Members of the Future Nurses Club study nursing qualifications, hospital technique, and tour hospitals under the direction of Mrs. Helen Beyer. Leading club activities — Norma Powers, president; Nancy Rathburn, vice-president; Mrs. Beyer; and Arline Beehler, secretary.

for College and Industry

Future Farmers of America participate in a variety of agricultural projects to give the boys practical experience. Delegates from Arthur Hill took part in state and national conventions and conducted evening classes for farmers. FFA honors the most outstanding agriculture senior each year with the DeKalb award. Project organizers — Frank Spindler, treasurer; Dan Ederer, president; Don Turner, secretary; Bob Bowden, vice-president; Jerry Stroebel, sergeant-at-arms; and Max Dietrich, reporter.

What's cooking boys? Homemaking is offered to senior boys only. Jim Kleinfelder, Don Rouech, Jerry Martin, and Roy Monsees prepare and serve a meal family style to prove their ability to follow the best methods learned in class under the supervision of Mrs. Lorna Zeigler.

"Beautify Your Homesite," a community project offered by Arthur Hill FFA, was welcomed by Saginawians. The adult night class discusses landscaping and maintenance of a lawn under direction of Mr. Howard Lytle. The class in its second year proceeded from where last year's group left off by supplying each member with a booklet of information collected last year. These classes closed their study with a potluck in the cafeteria. Professor Thomas J. Cox, landscape architecture at Michigan State College, showed films on modern landscaping.

Practical and Fine Arts

Arts and crafts students combine their talents to support school and community activities. They aid the Junior Red Cross by making posters, cheer up patients at hospitals by making colorful decorations for trays and tables, and support all student activities with posters and decorations. Sharon MacMillan, Patricia Bedore, and Richard Elvin look over the display of table novelties the classes have made.

Working diligently on paintings in one of Mrs. Virginia Siehr's art classes are Barbara Barchak, Mary Lou Sperry, and Sharon Shook.

Crafts classes offer a varied assortment of projects including rug weaving, basket making, and modeling clay under the instruction of Mr. Earl Mitchell. Demonstrating their skill at the loom are Glenna Van Haute and Jerry Carlton.

Firing ceramics in the kiln in craft class, students Robert Wobig and Helen Bellinger explain the procedure to Ron Lange. These three students did outstanding work during the year. Helen won a first place honor in the Regional Art Exhibition Contest at the Saginaw Museum.

Serve Artist and Community

Outstanding students in art classes this year were Larry Barton and Howard Machette. Larry won the first place award in the General Federation of the Women's Clubs 1954 art contest; while Howard won first place in the Regional Art Exhibition Contest sponsored by the Saginaw Woman's Club.

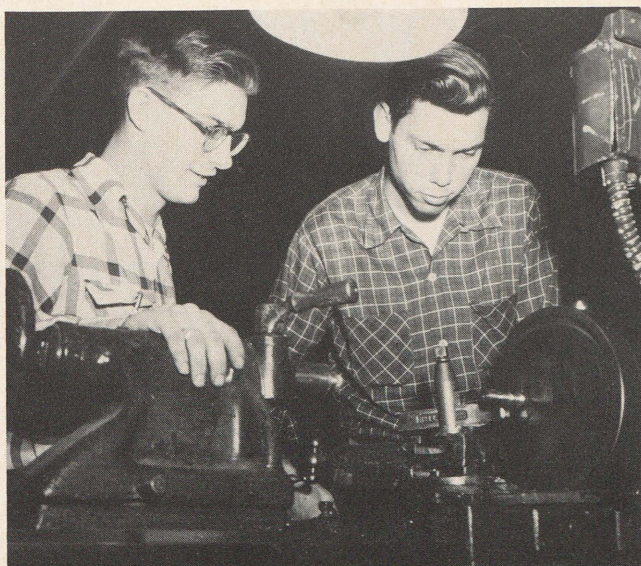

Students in art class were given an opportunity to display their ability when the Spanish Club sponsored a contest for paintings of Spanish flavor. Marie Scharrer proudly works on her entry.

Working on a blueprint design in Mr. A. A. Pieritz's mechanical drawing class is Ron Petre. Students interested in careers as draftsmen and pattern makers in industry or architectural work find this course helpful.

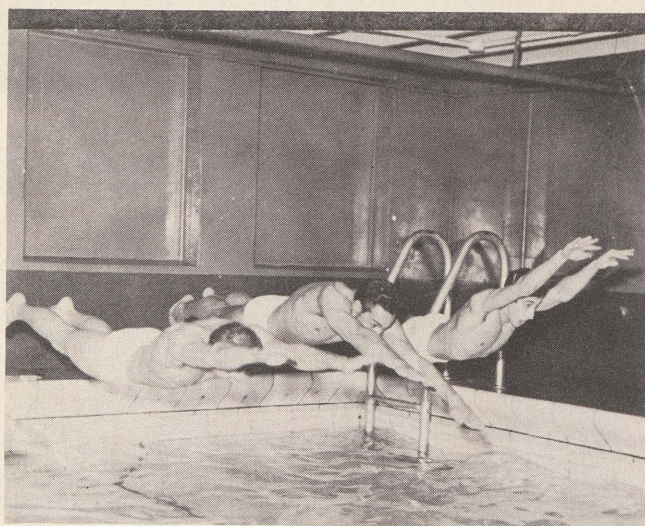

In machine shop class Stan Fobear tools a metal pattern on the lathe for Ron Kuhlman. Mr. Robert Barringer offers students a good background for industrial jobs of their choice.

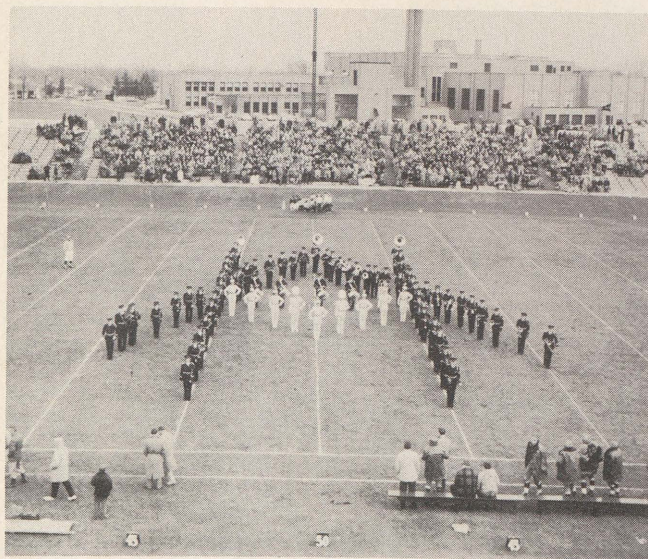

Queen Jan Morford and her court reigned over the 23rd annual homecoming festivities, October 30 with Flint Central. Members of the Queen's Court — Janet Kwaiser, Ruth Brownrigg, Marcia Flucke, Rachel Tiedke, attendant Kay Archangeli, queen Jan, attendant Ruth Weiss, Dale Chiarovano, Dolores Durham, Donelda Turner, and Roberta Krenz.

Taking a dip in the cramped YMCA pool during a regular practice session are Arthur Hill swimmers Tom Princing, Jackie Brown, and Dick Graft.

At football games Arthur Hill's 70 piece marching band always pleases the crowd with half time exhibitions. The AH monogram is a popular formation.

Scoring during the annual Turkey Day football game brings fans to their feet in support of the gridgers.

A Score . . . A Rousing Cheer

The crowd of sports fans relax. Games and meets are popular throughout the community. In the fall the Memorial Stadium and the spacious gyms accommodate the family. Ample grounds afford track and other spring sports facilities. Only golf, tennis, and swimming remain orphans. Schedules, tickets, and fan fare alike are attractions to the community.

Lights, camera, action Mr. Harold Werkema and Mr. Julius Musolf atop the press box in Memorial Stadium take movies of the games.

Traditionally, basketball games at Arthur Hill open with the playing and singing of the National Anthem. Peppy marches and cheer accompaniments encourage the team.

Tension climaxes as Dick Sommers leads the field in the final stretch to the finish line.

Directing students and fans in cheers at basketball and football games were cheerleaders Karen Krogman, Shirley Jones, Dianne Wallace, Onalee Klemach, and Nancy Schnarr. Other leaders — Sue Wynn, Delores Durham, Sue Stamm, Sharon Tessman, Janice Michalski, and Nancy Snider.

Basketball know-how is at a premium each year when all 65 advisories find their places on the calendar for the elimination contest of the intramural sports program. Each advisory tries to find at least five boys who know something about the game. If there are any spares then height gets the odds. In the athletic department students set up the schedule, announce the program in the daily bulletin, referee the games, and keep records under the guidance of Mr. Glenn Mason, athletic director. Program directors — Standing: Bob Plater, Jim Wilson, Ron Herman, Len Zorn, and Keith Wing; Sitting: Chairman Ivars Berzins.

Keen competition failed to halt the strong forces of Miss Constance McWethy's advisory team. After eliminating all foes in the south-half of the school, these stalwarts downed Mr. Kurt Kampe's advisory team the north-half winners. McWethy's champions — Neils Larson, Charles Murdock, Larry Lebsch, Jim LaDuce, Ken Neiderquill, and Dick Neiderquill.

Through Physical Education Classes

A new champion was crowned after the final encounter of the boys intramural basketball season. Miss Constance McWethy's advisory team members proved their skill against Mr. Kurt Kampe's advisory team when they emerged victorious in a "nip and tuck" battle. The 32 to 29 victory was played before the student body on March 17 in the school gym. High point players for the winners were Ken Neiderquill with 16 points and his cousin Dick with 13 points. Carl Jacobson with 10 points and Jack Leece with 8 points paced the runners-up.

Intramural runners-up used strategy and clever team work in playing the final game in the boys intramural playoff. Mr. Kurt Kampe's advisory team trekked to school before 7:30 six times before winning the north championship. Team members — Jack Leece, Dick Leslie, Carl Jacobson, Pat Knox, John Leaman, and Jerry Hicks.

Boys gymnasium classes begin indoor track practice early in the year. Each month the best qualified sprinters are named from class competition under the direction of Mr. Glenn Mason, physical education director. Consistent winners were Dick Meier, undefeated for four months, Bob Kudinger, John Adams, Don Lehman, Ted Hammerschmidt, and Jim Grinnell. Other class activities help to keep boys in good physical condition.

Hillites Keep Fit

Rifle Club members meet twice a week to gain greater skill in rifle usage. Mr. Edwin Schalk, club adviser, gives the boys careful instructions. Sighting their guns — Art Lickly, vice-president; Jim Shook, president; and Gary Brooks, secretary-treasurer.

Boys Bowling Club completes its second year of activity this season. The boys meet once a week at the Moose Alleys. Checking scores — Dick Hummel, president; Jerry Hoffman, treasurer; Chuck Murdock, vice-president; John Ahrens, secretary; and Mr. Joseph Sloboda, club adviser.

Exercises and Games

Junior and sophomore girls in physical education participate in seasonal sports such as volleyball, basketball, and baseball. On alternate days the girls attend art of living classes. Physical education director is Miss Mary Margaret Doidge.

Develop Precision

Letter girls number 17 this year. Through participation in intramural sports such as volleyball, basketball, and baseball girls can earn the 200 points required for a letter. They receive 50 points for each sport they participate in and 10 extra points if their team wins a championship. Letterwinners — Top Row: Erna Kobs, Rosalia Bierd, Marilyn Bierlein, Gail Walton, Ruth Kellogg, and Myra Zeilinger. Second Row: Yvonne Yearsley, Joy Smith, Coach Mary Margaret Doidge, Edith Burr, Kay Archangeli. Front Row: Janet Bolger, Janet Savage, Joan Kuhn, and Gayle Calkins.

Girls bowling team members meet every Thursday under the leadership of Miss Helen G. Olmsted. Club officers — Gailann Harris, president; Carol Rice, secretary-treasurer; and Janice Koski, vice-president.

Baseball series winner last spring was Team Two under the leadership of Captain Yvonne Yearsley. Team members — Rosalia Bierd, Yvonne Yearsley, Janet Bolger, Erna Kobs, Kay Roditcher, Mary Powlus, Lou Anne Heck, Dorothy Reed, and Kay Lemmer.

Capturing the spotlight in girls intramural basketball was Team Six. Team One members were determined runners-up in an exciting tournament. Championship team members — Sharon Schreyer, Jane Rummel, Pat Gilmour, Edith Burr, Sharon Anderson, and Captain Sue Kraner. Missing from the picture are Marlene Moser and Jeanette Sting.

Managing the student store during lunch hour are Mary Ellen Graham and Carolyn Sackrider. The student store is open before school and during noon hour.

Retailing provides students with opportunities to study and practice window display. Ron Moldenhauer, Co-op Club president, shows his merchandise to Ivaloe Donnenworth and Ron Korbien.

Advertising plays an important part in the success of school activities. Displaying a poster prepared by the art class announcing the annual Turkey Game are Jim Harmony and Delores Durham.

Students and Merchants Share

Through Arthur Hill's recognized training in service program and through activities in almost every department of the school, businesses and students find a common ground. Trips through places of employment for students and teachers brings about an appreciation and a wider range of service for both. Merchants find school activities and publications a good medium for their services and students find merchants helpful as employers and resource people.

A friendly chat in the lounge at Michigan Bell Telephone Company is enjoyed by student workers during their rest period. Operators — Gail Demsky, Mary Ida Donovan, Kay Lemmer, and Eva Meyer.

Joyce Harnois types a letter to a business firm while Ruth Grover files some important papers. Typing and filing, as well as shorthand and transcription, are part of Arthur Hill's office training course.

Community employers dine with student employees at the annual Co-op banquet, held this year in Arthur Hill's cafeteria.

JOBS ARE
CHEERING

Take the Telephone Company, for example. Anyone who works for Michigan Bell will tell you it's everything a girl could want in a job.

First, you don't need any experience. You learn your job on the job, and earn a good salary while learning. Raises are regular and frequent. Your income is steady, you can always count on it and you get annual vacations with pay.

Another nice thing about telephone work is that you'll associate with people your own age, just out of school, too. You'll work in clean, bright, pleasant surroundings. Whether you prefer to start as a telephone operator, a teller or a clerk, you'll find opportunities for advancement.

We'd like to tell you more about these and other interesting telephone jobs. Visit us soon, won't you?
